IN CHESS CIRCLES.

After a long vacation from serious chess in this neighborhood, a match for the championship of the District will commence tonight between Captain O'Farrell, the holder, and Mr. W. A. Gwyer, the challenger. The agreement is that the title goes with the first seven games won. The time limit is forty moves the first two hours, and thereafter twenty moves per hour. A third party may keep the score and also the clocks. This last is somewhat of an innovation, but in the right direction, as it allows the contestants to play

During the month of May but ninety-five games were played therein. The only players to go above the tens were Mr. Mitchell, who won two-thirds of his games, and Mr. Turner, who took one-half.

The West, in its correspondence contest with the East, finding its opponent getting a little too close, humped itself again and holds the lead, 20½ to 15½.

On two different occasions he gathered in bunts cleverly, and then proceeded to slam the sphere out into right field, and on each occasion the error was costly. The local "fans" were beseeching the Senators to confine themselves to bunts throughout the game on account of Griffith's weakness, but the chances were too great, as he generally fields his position perfectly.

Opposed to Griffith on the rubber was Mr.

Carrick, the star of the Senators' pitching Carrick, the star of the Senators' pitching staff, but what he had to serve up yesterday was no puzzle to the Chicago lads. It was a case of biff and bang throughout the game, and then, near the finish, not to be outdone by Griffith, "Wee Willie" threw the ball almost over the right field bleachers in trying to field a man out at first. After the game Carrick, in speaking of his efforts to an Evening Star reporter said. forts to an Evening Star reporter, said:
"I was reminded of an old darkey's saying today when I saw how things were going: 'It was coming to me, and I got it.' I had all my curves and shoots down fine, and plenty of speed, but the white sox boys hit everything I put over the plate, and on three different occasions went after wild pitches and even landed them safe. The harder I worked the better the Chicago boys batted, but I did the best I could, in the hopes that the Senators might get the hang of Griffith's delivery and treat him like I was being maltreated. The ball I almost threw over the bleachers was full of soft mud when I picked it up, but as it was a fast play I had to throw quick, and as it slipped from my hand it went nearly into the clouds. The fielding of the boys back of me was strictly first-class. The grounds were slippery and responsible for the few errors made, and we were beaten simply through my inability to hold the Chicago batters in check."

Up until 3 o'clock it was not thought possible for a game to be played on account of the downpour of rain, but Man-ager Manning brought western ideas into use, and as a result the grounds were in fairly good condition when the umpire started the game. Many bonfires were built over the soft spots in the field and around the home plate, and after an hour's hard work a great deal of the moisture had disappeared. When the gates were thrown open the "fans" commenced to pour into the different stands, and nearly 3,500 persons were present during the game. Umpire Haskell made his first appear ance on the local grounds, and his work can be classed as fairly good. He missed several balls and strikes, but he was impartial in his decisions, and is to be commended on this account.

Van Haltren has played at Chicago, Baltimore, Pittsburg and New York, and Farrell at Chicago, Pittsburg, Washington, New York, Washington a second time, and Brooklyn. For a man who has been in the league a comparatively short time McGann has done well. He has played at Washington, Baltimore, Brooklyn and St. Louis, McCreery has been a member of Louisville, Pittsburg, New York and Brooklyn teams. Mike Grady went from Philadelphia to St. Louis, to New York, to Washington, in a brief space of years. It will be noticed that there are high-class players in this lot, so their frequent change of base has not been from want of ability.

so their frequent change of base has not been from want of ability.

The cases of Nichols, Delehanty, Kennedy, McPhee, Long, Lowe and Jimmy Ryan are in direct contrast. Nichols has grown figuratively gray in the service of one club, Boston. He never played on another National league team. Nevertheless he has experienced several changes as a professional, having played at Kansas City, Memphis and Omaha before geing to Boston. The palm certainly belongs to McPhee, who within the memory of man never played elsewhere than Cincinnati. Ryan was with Chicago about fifteen years, and was with Chicago about fifteen years, and Long has done all his league playing with Boston. Before that he played at Chicago

Departure of Pennsylvania's Crew to Row at Henley. PHILADELPHIA, June 8.-The University of Pennsylvania crew salled for Liverpool today on the steamship Waesland to compete in the Henley regatta for the grand challenge cup July 3 to 5 inclusive. The Pennsylvania party consisted of fifteen -eight 'varsity oarsmen, coxswain, two substitutes, Coach Ellis Ward, Graduate Manager Reginald Hart, Undergraduate Homer Le Boutillier and one rubber. Following are the members of the crew: R. R. Zane. R. H. Eisenbray, F. L. Davenport, S. Crowther, jr., A. H. Flickwer, G. S. Allyn, W. G. Gardiner, J. P. Gardiner, L. J. Smith, G. Gardiner, J. F. Yale Athletic Association.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 8.-Charles Gould of Albany, N. Y., has been elected president and manager of the Yale Athletic Association. He is a member of the class of 1902 and captain of next fall's foot ball team. Newell Hobart Hargrove of Cincinnati, 1902, Sheffield Scientific School, is the new vice president; Oliver Livingston Duval, 1903, of Brooklyn, N. Y., assistant manager, and William Shively Fulton, 1903, manager, and william Snively Fulton, 1905, of Waterbury, Conn., secretary. It is announced that the Yale squad will be called together on September 1 to go into regular training for the international intercollegiate meet. The men who scored points in the Yale-Harvard meet or the intercollegiate games have been ordered to do individual training at their homes during the summer, but the final selections for the international games will not be made until a week before the meet.

Base Ball Notes. Pitchers Lee and Patterson will probably fight it out today. Carrick's record stands: Seven victories, two defeats and one tie.

Shortstop Billy Clingman had eleven chances yesterday and captured all but one, his error being on a puzzling grounder. "Pop" Foster made himself solid with the crowd once more by sending a long drive over the left field fence. Hits were scarce and the homer was received with shouts of approval.

"Dummy" Hoy looks as bright and chip-per as when he wore a Senatorial uniform. It was all right for Jones and Mertes to hammer out the safe hits, but when Shugart, who never hits anything, gets into the same class it is time to cry quits. Jimmy Callahan warmed up before the game, and it was thought that he might go on the rubber, but he is afraid to take a chance with his wrist, which was fractured almost two months ago. When once in shape he and Griffith should make things hum for the white sox.

Sammy Dungan played a beautiful first base, but the local "fans" would sooner see him back in right and either Clark or Grady guarding the initial corner during Everitt's disability.

The different American League managers should corral all the left-handers possible when the Chicagos come along and use nothing but southpaws against their left-sided batters, of whom they have several. Several Chicago newspaper men are with the Comiskey aggregation, and they are loyal to the white sox. Nothing but first place will satisfy them, and they believe that will be ultimate resting place of the Chicago American League team.

Jack O'Brien is up to his old tricks again since he has joined the Clevelands. Yesterday he secured three singles and a double off McGinnity and drove in a majority of the runs scored.

Baltimore is getting very dangerous, and the Senators mustn't relinquish third place to that bunch of birds. To fall behind any

The American League club of Boston has secured Winters, the Young Men's Christian Association pitcher of York, Pa., who pitched against the Baltimore league team and the Maryland Athletic Club team when they played there this season. Winters also pitched for the Gettysburg club and is the second Gettysburg pitcher to join the league this season. The other is Plank, who is aiding the Athletics to recover lost

Barry's wild throw in Tuesday's game, which allowed the winning run to score for Pittsburg, evidently worried him. Once he threw over Del.'s head and again he threw too low. Del. saved the young man from one error by a long reach for a third wild Catcher "Jiggs" Donahue of the Pittsburg team was released to the Minneapolis club of the Western League yesterday. He at once agreed on terms with the Minneapolis management and left in the afternoon to join the team. Donahue has been with the Pittsburg Club since last season. His showing with the Dayton team of the Interstate League last year attracted the attention of the Pittsburg management. With O'Connor and Zimmer doing steady work, Manager Clark did not need Dona-hue. He is one of the few left-handed catchers in the business. There are now only fifteen players on the Piratical roster. The Cleveland base ball writers are not The Cleveland base ball writers are not done talking yet of Lajoie's batting when the Athletics played here. Far down in center field stands the fence, about 425 feet from the plate. Surrounding this fence is an arrangement of green-painted slats, possibly to obstruct the view of "deadheads." The newspaper men point with pride to a hole where one of these slats is broken and tell how the might be to the control of the slats. is broken, and tell how the mighty Ath-letic swatter made it with a ball driven from his bat. Needless to say, Lajoie scored a home run on that occasion. The circumstance reminds one of the red Mal tese cross and the flag that used to adorn the fence at Union Park with the significant question "Here?" As old-time rooters will remember, these were little mementoes of Brouthers' little efforts to "place" the ball when something of the sort was need-ed to win the game.—Cleveland Leader.

Keene's Winnings for Charity. James R. Keene announced yesterday in New York that the Oaks stakes, won by the Keene stable in England, will be distributed among certain charities. The amount is $24,000 approximately. The beneficiaries are to include the Herald ice fund, $1,000; the Tribune fresh air fund, $1,000; the Five Points Mission, $1,500; St. John's Guild, $2,000; the Catholic Orphan Asylum, $2,000; the Protestant Orphan Asylum, $2,000; and the Hebrew Sheltering Arms Society, $2,000. One-half of the money is to be distributed in this country and one-half to English

S. W. G. Century Run. The committee having in charge arrangements for the century run of the Spanish War Guard, Messrs. W. W. Smith, C. J. Weis, H. W. Meyers, L. G. Barnett, N. R. Gould, E. R. Fontaine, G. R. Rockwell and L. C. Dyer, met Wednesday evening to further plans for the run. The committee decided to procure a suitable trophy to be contested for by clubs. # The Rambler Wheel

-A good man on a good wheel is a telling combination. E. L. Wilson on a Rambler won first in the mile handicap from scratch in the race of June 6th.

Ramblers met every test of speed strength and quality. -Another strong and speed recommendation for our wheels is found in the fact that the Cycle Police have selected RAMBLERS and TRIBUNES as their mounts. A question of individual choice with them. You can rely on such judgment.

Golf Championship Entries. The entries for the United States Golf Association championship closed vesterday with R. Bage Kerr of New York. Although the list does not include the names of Harry Vardon, J. H. Taylor and David Bell, the three leaders last year, it is representative and the entries are more numerous than ever before.

About twenty entries are from links beyond the Alleghenies. The east, of course, will be represented in great strength, and besides the resident Scotch and English prorence Auchterlonie, Aleck Taylor and the brothers Herd, Turpie and Foulis will be on the St. Andrews team, while on the opposing side will be Will Anderson, George is also talk of a four-ball match at Garder City between Walter J. Travis and Gardiner and Findlay S. Douglas and Low, to be held before the departure of the two professionals for Myopla.

Woman Golf Champion Defeated. Miss Frances C. Griscom, the woman golf champion, was defeated in the first match play round of the Merion Cricket Club's open tournament, near Philadelphia yester-day, by Miss Ruth Underhill of Nassau, the former champion.

Shortly after the match started a blindsnorthy after the match started a blinding hail and rain storm swept over the links, but the young women stuck pluckly to their task. Miss Griscom was very unsteady in her play, and Miss Underhill's superior putting under the wretched conditions of the ground gave her the victory by 3 up and 2 to play.

Lawson's Proposition Rejected. Thomas W. Lawson's yacht, the Independence, will not be allowed to compete in the trial races preliminary to the races for the America's cup unless she shall be chartered by some member of the New York Yacht Club, who will enter her for such events as she may be qualified to take part in.
